DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to the amendment, filed 1 August 2008, which amends claims 1, 3 and 4. Claims 1 and 3-6 are pending.

Response to Amendment

2. The rejection(s) of:
claims 1 and 3-6 under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement is overcome by the amendment, filed 1 August 2008.
3. The rejection(s) of:
claims 1 and 3-6 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tada et al., US 6,074,981 are withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1 and 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Palmgren, US 6,143,405, in view of Hayfield, US 4,422,917.

Palmgren teaches:

Column 8, lines 2-9, teach particles coated with conductive metal oxides and the use of the particles in composites.

Column 10, lines 32-42, teach the particles include various synthetic fibers such as nylon and acrylonitrile-butadiene-styrene.

Column 12, lines 38-42, teach coating thicknesses in the range of 2 to 100 nanometers.

Column 12, lines 5-8, teach the use of the coated particles as a layer for a covering such as flooring.

Column 12, lines 55-59, teach the coating can allow light to be transmitted such that the color of the underlying particle is visible.

Column 13, lines 5-20, teach desired conductivity ranges of the coated particles.

Column 13, lines 22-25, teach depositing the coating by physical vapor deposition. Preferably, the coating is deposited by sputtering.

Column 13, lines 50-53, teach introducing oxygen when the sputtering target is metallic in order to allow oxidation.

Column 15, lines 8-60, teach composites comprising the coated particles.

Palmgren does not recite:

Palmgren does not recite fractions of titanium oxides in the coating composition.

However, Palmgren teaches desired ranges of conductivity of the oxide coating.

Hayfield teaches:

Column 4, lines 45-65, figure 1, teach the conductivity of TiO_x (titanium oxides).

Statement of Obviousness:

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to produce a mixture of titanium oxides having a desired conductivity, as in Palmgren, by selecting from the materials of Hayfield a composition having such a conductivity and introducing suitable amounts of oxygen to produce the desired stoichiometry.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
